SUNDAY SCHOOL, SECOND CONGREGATIONAL CHURCH, NORWAY, MAINE

Hughes-Fairbanks' Clubs Celebration.

A big celebration was held in Norway and South Paris Tuesday evening by the Hughes-Fairbanks clubs of the two villages. The line of march was formed on Western Avenue at South Paris when about 50 autos and 200 men carrying torches formed in line led by the marshal, J. Waldo Nash assisted by Albert D. Park, E. C. Torrey and Phillip Everett as mounted aids. Preceding these was the Rumford Falls Band. They marched down Western Avenue by the sled factory down High street to the square. The houses along the line of march were brightly illuminated and many elaborately decorated with bunting, flags and lanterns. At Market Square the stores were illuminated and red fire was made and Wallace White, jr., of Lewiston, Congressman elect, delivered a brief speech in which he thanked the people of Oxford County for the support during the past election and expressed the desire for even greater victory in November.

The parade was formed and proceeded to Norway. Beginning at the corner of Paris and Main lights illuminated the street on both sides to Bridge at intervals of about 10 feet. Many of the houses and stores along the street were brilliantly illuminated and decorated. The parade marched up Main street, through Bridge, Water, Pleasant, Crescent, Whitman, Pearl, Deering, Cottage, down Beal and through Lynn street to Wetherell Park. A large crowd assembled at the park to listen to the speaker. Hon. J. E. Milliken, expressing his regrets on being unable to be present, Ex-Governor Bert M. Fernald was introduced, who made a brief speech expressing his gratitude to the Republicans of Oxford County for their liberal support and urged even greater victories in the coming November election. He touched upon several of the national issues of the day.

A rifle and drum corps from Norway and South Paris played along the line of march following the men bearing torches. Among the "specials" were the Oxford Bear, born on a platform and received lots of attention. Also the G. O. P. phant. Among the transparencies were "Hughes and Fairbanks Clubs, South Paris," which had a roster on the other side. "Preparedness Protection," "Milliken, 13,800," "Fernald, 4,640," "Mills, 3,476," "Whoever you send to Congress, send White Man," "Oxford County's Vote" for governor and Congressman, with figures inscribed, "Did the Boy Win?" "What Boy?" "Wallace H. White, jr., of Good-bye Dan," "Champion of Lewisville to the Sea," "Dan's Canal," "When?" One banner pictured an Oxford Bear, another a cannon shooting to pieces "Safety First," inscribed Sept. 11, 1916.

The celebration was ended by rousing cheers for Gov. Fernald and his wife.

Children Lost

The two little children of Charles Damon, Cummings Place, aged three and four years became lost, Wednesday. The last seen of them at their home was about 11 o'clock. Searchers were out for the school boys, and finally the school boys, a hunter and a dog, were sent out and were going to beat Pike Hill. The school boys got as far as Lewisville where word was received that the children had been found in the Square at South Paris. Fred Cummings came home with them by auto, Harold Bailey, driver.

The ladies of the Methodist church will serve their harvest dinner and supper at the Grange Hall next Thursday, October 5th.

Mrs. Annie Frost, who has been spending a week with her daughter, Mrs. Ethel Cairns of Paris, returned home Monday. Mr. and Mrs. Elton L. Brown and son Paul spent the day Tuesday in Sumner. J. C. Tuell has sold the Twombly house on Deering street to Col. E. F. South, who has rented the house to Thad Cross. Mr. Tuell and wife will return to West Sumner, taking Mrs. Twombly along with them if she chooses to go. The stone post which has done duty at the corner of Main and Bridge street for fifty years has been "dressed" and will guard the southerly approach to the C. B. Cummings Sons' new office. J. H. Linscott did the dressing. The old stone post lacks its familiar appearance. James C. Frost on the Waterford road, has purchased a 1917 Ford car and is learning to run it.

Mr. and Mrs. Albert Fogg of South Windham were recent guests of Mrs. Mary Bennett. Mr. Fogg will be remembered as one of the boss carpenters on the I. O. O. F. building when the second and third floors were built a few years ago.

Mr. and Mrs. James Bennett of Townsboro, Mass., and Mr. and Mrs. Charles Bennett of Sweden have been recent guests of their brother, G. Oscar Bennett and wife. They also visited other friends and relatives while in town.

Mr. and Mrs. Harold Thayer, and daughter Margaret, Mrs. Adna Keene, Mrs. Fred Lovejoy, Charlotte Lovejoy and Tip Aldren, who have been stopping at Old Orchard, have returned home. Mr. and Mrs. Thayer were there during the summer. Mr. Thayer is suffering with rheumatism.

How to keep their glasses clear is often a grave question to those who wear them. We want to whisper to you a remedy used by "the profess." Put a spoonful of alcohol in about four times as much water, dampen a soft, clean cloth, and clear the glasses.

F. H. Cummings and wife and John Swain and wife were among those who attended the Fryberg fair.

Her Money was Returned.

On Wednesday during the fair, Mrs. W. E. Littlehale of Bethel called at this office and inquired if we thought it would be of any use to advertise for a pocket book which she had just lost. She said that she was in Pine Grove Cemetery with her grandson and while there opened her hand bag to get a headache pill and in so doing removed the pocket book. On leaving the Cemetery she found the pocket book was missing and immediately went in search for it but was unable to locate it.

Of course we told her that it was possible, by means of an ad. in the paper to locate the pocket book on the condition that it had fallen into the hands of an honest person. If it had been taken by a party who made it a practice of lifting such articles at fair time it probably would not amount to a great deal. However, there was a chance.

Consequently Mrs. Littlehale decided to put an ad. in the paper and returned home feeling that the loss of her pocket book with over $18.00 and two railroad tickets had been rather an expensive day's trip to the fair without much to show for it.

The first of the next week Mrs. Littlehale received a letter from Mrs. Winfield Bessey of Paris street stating that she had found the pocket book which she was advertising in the "Advertiser." Mrs. Littlehale came to Norway and secured the missing articles, feeling more certain than ever that it pays to advertise.

Millinery Openings

Mrs. R. L. Powers and Miss H. M. Taylor are having their fall millinery openings this week. As usual, they are largely attended and of great interest to the ladies. They have always kept a little old at first, but they soon become absorbed into the general order of things and every lady finds one just suited to her needs.

Judge Wm. F. Jones, who has been spending a few days at Randolph, N. H., returned home, Friday.

Edith Rideout received word, before starting for her school at Rockland, that it would not open for at least two weeks. We have considerable sympathy for her. Wm. H. H. Verill of Auburn, has been a recent guest of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Morgan.

Mr. and Mrs. Elhanan Tubbs are spending a few weeks in Portland. Their son, Bert Tubbs, is in the hospital there for treatment.

Edna T. Haynes, who has been visiting Dr. H. L. Bartlett and family, has returned to her home in Methuen, Mass. We have considerable sympathy for her. Wm. H. H. Verill of Auburn, has been a recent guest of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Morgan.

School Items

The girls of Norway High enjoyed a Hare and Hound Chase to the Crow's Nest, Pleasant street, Friday. The girls representing hounds went in three groups by three separate trails with Junior girls as leaders. The Senior girls went ahead as the hares. A large fire was built on the shore of the lake, where corn, marshmallows and fudge were cooked. In the evening the girls sang several songs before leaving for home. There were forty-two of the girls present. Miss Rideout, Miss Louie, Miss Knight and Miss McCreary were chaperones.

Football practice has started under the coaching of Albert Parker. Paul Hosmer, who has been working at Poland Springs, has returned and is attending school.

Myra and Marion Noble are taking a post-graduate course while on the waiting list at Wellesley.

The departmental work has started this week in the Seventh, Eighth, and Ninth grades. The aim of this department is to give each teacher an opportunity to teach the study she likes best. Miss Dresser teaches Mathematics, Miss Goldrup, English and Physiology, and Miss Fuller, History and Geography. This makes the Grammar School grades practically a Junior High School.

Congregational Church Notes

The Get-together Banquet for the men of the Congregational church will be held on Friday evening at 7:30 o'clock. Prof. F. D. Tubbs, A. M. S. T. D. of College will address the men upon Mexico.

All friends of the Church are requested to remember the Rally Day Exercises on Sunday, Oct. 10. At each session there will be an interesting program beginning at 10:40 with a service for worship and closing at 7:30 with Pilgrims' Progress in motion pictures.

Mrs. Estelle Bell is spending her vacation on the Akers' Studio, in Portland. Mrs. Clinton Massek was able to go to her father's home Tuesday, from Dr. Trautman's hospital.

Mrs. A. E. K. Grover spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. D. W. Goodwin and family at Orchard Farm. Mr. Grover also called on Mr. and Mrs. Harry Goodwin at Red Feather Farm. Archie Goodwin and wife and Mrs. D. W. Goodwin came in their auto after her, and saw her safely home.

Mrs. Nellie Hill of Bridgton is visiting her sister, Mrs. Thaddeus Cross.

Mary M. Bickford returned to Boston Thursday, after visiting her mother, Mrs. Emma J. Bickford. Miss Bickford has been in position as a special teacher for feeble minded children. This year she has the instruction of 70 girls.

The selectmen are in process of revising the Norway check list. Four years ago the check list was last revised and since that time there has been 434 changes in the list. This number seems very large considering the total number of voters is about 900. It shows that among the voters in town there has been a great many changes in 4 years' time.

A school is being taught in the Congregational Church. Wouldn't it be a good idea to move in some of the closed schoolhouses from the rural districts? Rufe Morrill could do it. He has big oxen and horses.

Sara Mayberry is still ill with typhoid fever in a Lynn, Mass., hospital. Her mother is in Lynn with her. There were a large number of cases of fever in that city and it is thought she contracted the fever through milk. At last report her fever had not turned.

C. W. Bennett and James Bennett and wife of Sweden have been visiting their brother, Oscar Bennett and wife.

Mrs. Alma Harriman will have her vacation from her dressmaking rooms in November.

Mrs. Francis Partridge of Norway Lake is improving in health. She has been sick for several weeks. Her daughter, Mrs. Maud March, has returned to her home in the village.

Mrs. Ellen Seavey of Auburn, is the guest of Judge and Mrs. C. F. Whitman; also Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Bicknell and family.

Rally Day at the churches will be October 8th. At the Baptist church the program will be by the children. At the Universalist church all the Sunday School teachers are on the reception committee, Zilpha Prince and her class of girls, the Deborah, Della M. Noyes and class No. 10 on the program committee. Adeline DeCoster, music, Mayford Mann advertising and the choir school on the invitation. The Methodist Sunday School members are wearing banners calling attention to the Rally Day to everyone. The Christian Endeavor Society of the Baptist church held a Rally meeting this week, Thursday evening with Mercy Millett at her home on Water street.

Marion Smith's school opens a week later than scheduled on account of the infantile paralysis scare.

Mrs. W. S. Pratt has returned to her home here after spending several weeks in Yarmouthville.

After an absence of eleven years Mrs. Ozias Whitman of Redwing, Minn., is visiting her brother and sister, Stephen and Olive Hatch.

Capt. Wright Bisbee is confined to his room at John Sampson's.

The walk from the street to George A. Brooks' home is being relaid.

Mrs. W. O. Perry is spending the week with friends in Portland.

Randall O. Porter is suffering with an attack of laryngitis.

They Strictly Observed Sunday

Henry Tucker of Logansport, Indiana, writes: "I want to make a correction in the little article you have published from me, which would mislead some people not well acquainted with the Sunday observance of Norway sixty years ago. You state that I report the horse-back riding contest between Norway and Paris, was on Sunday, now I am quite sure I made my typewriter give the days as Saturdays. We were pretty strict for Sunday observances. I well remember that father brought me a new pair of skates from Boston, the winter of 51-52 when we went to school at the Falls and there was the same schoolhouse I visited when I was two years ago, and the ice was fine on the meadow the morning after, which was Sunday, but I could only look at the skates and wait for Monday to come. I am quite sure neither of us boys ever went fishing or skating on Sunday.

How many remember the winter Saturdays when the older boys and men would meet at the head of Cottage street, by Crockett's "Picture Gallery" and have contests in wrestling, lifting at "stiff heels" and other feats of strength and skill?

Wirt Virgin was the leader of these sports as I remember. Aleck Brock was the champion wrestler.

But the most sport for us youngsters was to see the big boys and especially farmers, who were not familiar with the skill of a little fellow, Charles Bessey, of about 140 pounds weight, who would challenge any one to lift him "stiff-heeled." I can see him now as he would shake himself loose from any strong grip. We have a County Fair this week. Wish I could see some of Oxford County life and crowds.

Harry F. Greenleaf shipped a carload of apples Wednesday for Liverpool. The apples, except one lot, were all raised in Norway.

Alice Bartlett lost her pet cat Tuesday night. The cat evidently became entangled with an automobile and was killed.

The first meeting of the Oxford Chapter Order of the Eastern Star was held Tuesday evening at E. P. Hall. The degree was worked on five candidates. On Wednesday evening, October 4th, the local order will work the degree at Waterford. A committee was appointed with Homer Luck as chairman to make arrangements for transportation. It is expected there will be a large number attending.

Lillian Powers was the guest of Madeline Price at her home at Norway Lake Thursday. Thursday evening they attended a corn roast at the schoolhouse grove.

Mr. and Mrs. Will Wood and two children of Bridgton were guests Saturday and Sunday of Mr. and Mrs. Asa Frost at Norway Lake.

Mrs. E. S. Cummings and son Elliott, after spending the summer at their cottage at Bemis, returned home Tuesday. The people of the village were much discouraged Tuesday when word was being circulated that the work the way was to stop until spring for the lack of material. Tuesday night a carload of steel which is to be used for reinforcing the road, arrived and Wednesday morning the men were called to resume labor. The work of cementing the road will be begun at once and will continue until cold weather.

Mr. and Mrs. Thaddeus Roberts went to their new home at Augusta, Wednesday morning. James N. Tubbs is having his residence on Main street connected with the sewer. Joseph Dearborn has charge of laying the pipe.

Joseph Dearborn raised an unusually large cucumber in his garden in upper Main street this season. It weighed 4 pounds and measured 14 1/2 inches. Fred S. Brown has commenced building his house on lower Main street on what was formerly the Smart Goodwin lot. The foundation of cement is being put in. Morris Noyes of South Paris has charge of building the bungalow. This is to be a semi-bungalow with six rooms, a large hall and bath.

Mrs. Fred Moore and daughter Frances spent Sunday with Mr. Moore at Portland. They made the trip to Portland in H. Brown's car and returned by train.

Walter F. Tubbs met with a painful accident Tuesday evening when he saved the tips of two of his fingers on his left hand. Mrs. Sadie Emerson has a large fig tree which is about 3 feet tall, in her green-house. Six large figs have been formed and, barring accidents, probably would be matured.

The New England Order will serve a supper at 7 o'clock, Wednesday evening, Oct. 4. This is their regular meeting, and they particularly desire all of the members present as important business will be transacted.

B. E. Morrison, manager of the Norway Shoe Company, manufacturers of infants' shoes, was on the steamer Bay State the night she was wrecked off Cape Cod. He says some of the passengers were very good and frightened till the extent of the danger was known.

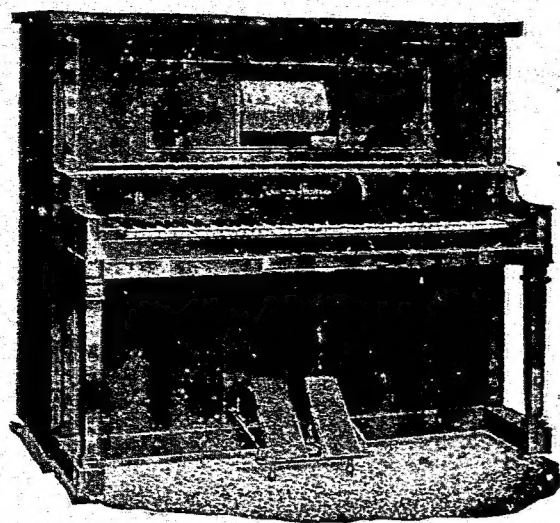

A petition addressed for the return to Maine of the men of the 2nd Maine Infantry, now at Laredo, Texas, will be sent to the secretary of War at Washington, D. C.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Goodwin spent Sunday at her father's, Mr. Charles Frost's. Walter Russ has moved his family to Portland, where he works in a shoe shop. Mrs. Sarah Smith's daughter, Mrs. Sadie Conner, who spent part of her vacation with her is now visiting in Woodstock, before returning to her home in Lynn, Mass.

Lake Temple Pythian Sisters will entertain Hamlin Temple of South Paris, Tuesday evening, October 3rd. The chairs will be filled by the officers of Lake Temple and the degree will be worked by the degree team of Hamlin Temple. Mrs. Lena M. Andrews has returned to Norway from a visit to Boston and other places in Massachusetts.

Walter Smith took the auto to a Portland hospital last Monday. The Mrs. went along, also Della Noyes and tax collector, Chas. M. Pike. Local diagnosis of the trouble indicated only a short stop, but in this they were deceived. It took several hours and they had to remain overnight. Mother was obliged to borrow fifty cents to pay for her night's lodging. They are here now and the engine "clicks" with a much more regularity as before it was overhauled. We notice Steve Cummings sitting demurely on the old office steps opposite our shop. We wonder if it does not seem homelike to him and he regrets the moving into the new office and the changed conditions. Who can say?

SYSTEMATIZE your household expenses by opening a bank account for your wife. Give her a check book and teach her the use of it. Pay the butcher, the grocer, the baker, with a check. Then at the end of the month you'll find out just how much it costs you to run the home. When payment by check is made there never is any doubt as to whether or not a bill is paid. The check is a receipt.

Besides, a checking account will give your wife a business education. The number of ordinarily bright women who know absolutely nothing of banking is surprising. If you are a husband, father, brother, you cannot tell when death may overtake you, and it is well that your wife, daughter and sister know something of banking.

MAKE UP YOUR MIND TODAY TO GIVE YOUR WIFE A CHECK BOOK.

We pay 2 per cent. interest on check account of $500 and over, on even hundreds. Interest credited to your account last of every month.

WANDERING WAYSIDE THOUGHTS

Thirteen years ago in company with F. H. Noyes and en route for the Fryburg Fair, I went over Baker Hill on the old road to South Waterford. I came over it a few days ago in an auto and was forcibly impressed with the changes. Not for the better, but to the bad. With few exceptions the farms and buildings do not seem to be in as good state of cultivation. Many of the houses show neglect and want of care. Most of the apple trees are old and some of the new orchards show neglect. Why is it?

Thirteen years ago I saw a deer on this side of Baker Hill. None was seen on this trip. Deer are too much hunted. They are prized for food and every boy and man who claim to be hunters—and the most of them do—try to get "their two deer" each season. This depletes the stock and they are becoming scarce. The same is true of game birds especially partridge. Not one did I see on the route and only two or three this fall and I have been many miles over roads where formerly there were many. Too many hunters.

Autos ply the roads and the sportsman sits with gun in hand ready to shoot on the instant. I noticed E. S. Kilborn came to town last week from his Songo Pond retreat and he had a gun setting beside him while driving a Cadillac car. He was ready for any game seen on the roadside be it deer, moose, bear or partridge, provided it was open season for the killing.

I think he shot a deer within a few years from his auto. This is only one case. There are others. There doing the same. It's little wonder game is scarce where there are passable roads.

But to return to the Baker Hill trip. The bushes are not cut by the roadside and sand is deeper in Sodom Flat than formerly. There are less inhabited homes on the road. There is less cultivated land and more woods to be seen. Maybe there is as much real value on this road as then but it lacks the looks of the prosperity it then showed.

The Baker farm is owned by a Finn. They are workers and give them a chance and they will get a living off the land. The native born do not or will not, I don't know which. They leave the land and come into the villages. Why?

A few, one at least, of the Everetts remain on the bottom-land of Crooked River and when he passes it's likely the place will be abandoned like the Sam Frost place on the other side of Frost Hill. I never was at the house. Have heard an article in town meeting read for 30 years about giving Mr. Frost his highway tax if he would keep the road passable from the road on Frost Hill to his residence. Nothing has been in the town meeting warrant regarding it for the past two years hence, I conclude the home that was, is no more. The children gone and the wood and bushes growing in the field.

Gully brook, a former trout stream, ran through the meadow. I have fished it and got trout but that was years ago when Lu Cushman was a stripling and there were Frosts enough around there and about the hill to fill a schoolhouse or small church.

Mason Frost lives on the hill and I think he is the only one bearing that name—if wrong, I'll stand correction.

Why is it? King David has passed on but the memory of his service in the State legislature in 1856 lingers with the older ones. His son, Irving Frost and wife live with a daughter in Auburn. "Pure water comes from the Mineral Spring but the buildings there are not." They came to the village and built a home on Whitman street. David Frost, turned the defunct Cheese Factory at Norway Lake into a home and left Frost Hill. Why?

The Ansel Cushman place is inhabited by Finns and there are others on the Hill or near there, I'm told. They work the land and practice economy. They have not as yet been ruined by false education. The Perry saw mill on the outlet of Sand Pond looks as if in distress and by and-by the recently constructed dam will give way and wash out the Harrison stage roads as it did a few years ago. Thus you have it, growth and decay—the latter in the ascendancy in the rural districts and towns growing. Why?

Drop down the south east of Frost Hill and what do you find? Alvin and Roswell Frost. When they are gone who will take their places on these farms?

Skirt along over the trail to Dry Mills and tell me how many people live on that road? No one unless it's a Finn. Dry Mills where Millett once lived is deserted. I think he now owns it. He came from Oxford there.

The Sol H. Millett farm on Pike Hill is practically deserted. We turned in the door yard the other day and didn't kill any chickens, but did see faces in the windows. The cottage house on the post looked prosperous and home-like, but the big barn buildings look like a thing of the past.

Farms on Pike Hill look prosperous. It is true of all of them excepting the S. H. Millett farm. Why? It's easily answered but I'll not weary you with my notion of it.

Does farming pay? You say.

EAST PERU. Most everyone around this place attended the fair at Canton last week. Mr. and Mrs. Harold Packard have moved onto their new farm.

Ralph Bennett is going to move his family to Dixfield this week, where he is to work in N. S. Stowell's pool mill. Tom Oldham and family are at their cottage at Worthley Pond.

Mrs. Alice Robinson spent last week at Roscoe Robinson's.

Mrs. Lucy Bryant was a guest at Mrs. Agnes Curtis' last week.

Mrs. Burns spent Sunday in Dixfield. Mrs. Ralph Bennett was in Dixfield, Tuesday.

Mrs. Edna Rolls was in Canton, Friday.

Lorena Rolls is sick with a cold. Dick Sullivan is to move his family onto their new farm in New Hampshire this week.

Asa Robinson has finished painting W. J. Bryant's buildings and returned to his home in Sumner.

The little girl of Mr. and Mrs. Bert Paul is sick.

BUCKFIELD

Attorney General of Maine. Fred R. Dyer of Buckfield has announced that he will be a candidate for attorney general of Maine, before the legislature when it convenes in January. Mr. Dyer was born in Old Town, Penobscot county, but after completing his education at Hebron academy and Colby college he went to Buckfield, where he read law and later opened an office for the practice of his profession, and has since remained.

In 1907 Mr. Dyer was elected to the Maine house of representatives, where he was a prominent member of the legal affairs committee, one of the most important committees of the state. In 1912 he was elected county attorney. He has served six years on the Republican second district convention, the entire time acting as its secretary. At the State convention in Portland last March he was elected Oxford county's member of the State committee.

HEBRON.

Hebron Academy. The three upper classes at Hebron Academy have made their usual fall term organizations. The result of the elections held during the past few days is as follows:

Senior Class: Pres., Robert D. Allen of Amesbury, Mass.; vice-pres., Marie J. Murch of South Casco; sec., Norman B. Dunbar of Kittery; treasurers, John W. Oakley of Portland and Clarice Miller of Syracuse, N. Y. The executive committee is made up of the vice-president and four others: Ralph A. Leavitt of Portland, Stanford Miller of Augusta, Helen Brown of Madison and Phoebe Farris of Boston. The social committee which has in charge the Friday evening gatherings of the school is made up of Joseph T. Murphy of Concord, N. H., William P. Foster of Andover, Mass., Vincent Whitten of West Farmington, Me., Pollard of Masardis, and Francis Merrill of Hebron. The class football team will be captained by Norman Dunbar and managed by John Oakley.

Junior Class: Pres., Kilborn S. Coe of Portland; vice-pres., Pauline Hale of Great Chebeague; sec., Evelyn B. Brown of Brownfield; treasurers, Beatrice Hall of Dark Harbor and Wesley Richardson of Sanford. Social committee: Edward Bucklin of Boothbay Harbor, Edward Kenyon of Fall River, Mass., Mary Olsen of Lamoine, Virginia Cafes of Machiasport. Executive committee in addition to the vice-pres., Howard A. Duffy of Lawrence, Mass., Doris Hamlin of Milan, N. H., Dorothy Bearce of Hebron, and Charles A. Damon of Swanville.

Sophomore Class: Pres., Augustine Redman of Andover, Mass.; vice-pres., Gertrude Gray of Jackson, N. H.; sec., George P. Murphy of Concord, N. H.; treas., John I. Corvin of Hartford, Ct.; captain of football, Frederick Redman of Andover, Mass.; manager, Edward Worthington of Concord, N. H.

WEST FRYEBURG.

The corn is harvested and quite a satisfactory report is heard from those who last June were so discouraged in regard to reaching the market.

Harold Wadsworth and Clifford Davis of Lovell were Sunday guests at G. H. Coleman's.

Louis Coleman is still clerking in Seavey & Hill's grocery store at East Conway, N. H.

C. F. and F. A. Stevens are cutting ensilage and filling the silos of E. L. and E. E. Walker and W. M. Farthing.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Meserve and friends motored to Bridgton, Saturday.

W. H. Hardy and wife, in company with P. W. Seavey and family, motored to Portland on Saturday. On their return home while in Casco, Mr. Seavey was run into by another car, causing a damage to his car, which debarred their reaching home that night.

Mr. and Mrs. Clayton Heath of Orono have been visitors at his parental home. George Thompson has installed a silo at his home.

School began in this section, Sept. 18, with the same teacher, Miss Foss of Cape Elizabeth, who taught last year with much success.

Mrs. David Bell has returned to her home, after assisting Mrs. H. B. Eastman with her work for a few weeks.

Mrs. Earle Bell has been at her parental home, Orono, for a few days.

Mr. and Mrs. E. E. Walker and D. A. Ballard and daughters motored to Portland last week.

Last Saturday two men from Kezar Falls came to see Guy Eastman's farm for the purpose of purchasing. They said they were very favorably impressed but wished a second party to come to see it. The time was Sept. 25 or 27 when they were to come. If Mr. Eastman sells, he will remove to Beverly, Mass.

STOW

Mr. and Mrs. Jenkins of Kingsfield are guests of Mr. and Mrs. Charlie Day.

Mrs. Rosina Walker is visiting her daughter, Mrs. Wellington McAllister, of Woodford.

John Eastman has had gas lights installed in his house and barn.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Stone will move into the parsonage at Chatham Center for the winter. Mr. Stone will work for Edwin McKeen.

Mrs. Marilla Emerson has gone to Portland for a few days.

Mrs. Georgia Binford of Auburn was the guest of Mrs. John Eastman, Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Guy Churchill of Sanbornville called on Mrs. Marilla Emerson recently.

Mr. and Mrs. William Leavitt of Fryburg were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Seavey on Sunday.

The supper that was given by the Good Cheer Society Thursday evening at the Town House was well attended and much credit is due the entertaining committee who served an excellent supper.

NORTH NEWRY

Macie Bennett is at home for a few days.

"Only 'Gets-It' for Me After This!"

It "Gets" Every Corn Every Time. Painless. Nothing More Simple.

"I'll tell you what, I've been using toe-eating salves for corns, I've quit making a package out of my toes with bandages and contraptions—quit digging with knives and scissors. Give me 'GETS-IT' every time!"

When You See These Pretty Girls in Your Drugist's Window It's a Good Time to End Your Corns.

That's what they all say the very first time they use "GETS-IT." It's because "GETS-IT" is so simple and easy to use—it is on a few seconds—because there is no work on corn-fooling to do, no pain that shoots up to your heart. It gets your corns off your mind. All the time it's working—and then, that little old corn peels right off, leaving the clean, corn-free skin underneath—and your corn is gone! No wonder millions prefer "GETS-IT." Try it tonight.

"GETS-IT" is sold and recommended by druggists everywhere, 25¢ a bottle, or sent on receipt of price by E. Lawrence & Co., Chicago, Ill. Sold in Norway and recommended as the world's best corn remedy by F. P. Stone.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Barnard and son of Belknap Falls, Vt., were recent guests of Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Barnard.

Edward Smart of Greenfield, Mass., recently visited his aunt, Mrs. Harris Allen. Mrs. Charles McKay and son, Percy, returned to her home in Portland, Saturday after spending a week with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Cobb.

A concert was held in Academy hall, Thursday evening of last week. The proceeds of which are to help start a fund to be used to save our beautiful elm trees from being destroyed by the elm tree beetles, which have done a good deal of damage the last two seasons. The program consisted of a violin solo by Alvin Freelove; vocal solos by Miss Inez Armstrong of Bridgton, Mr. Ferrier of Boston and Mr. Shaw of New York, and readings by Ella Louise Hill. It was an excellent program. The accompanists were the Misses Grace Evans and Marjorie Scribner. Ice cream was sold after the concert.

Truman Adams left Monday morning for Boston, where he will complete his course of studies in the undertaking business.

Real Estate Transfers Benjamin T. Newman of Fryeburg to Caroline G. Newman of Fryeburg, land and buildings on Long Island, Portland. Dated Sept. 15, 1916.

Fryeburg Academy opened on Tuesday morning, Sept. 19, with over 100 students. The freshman class numbers 46. It is reported that 60 of the students registering this term have never attended this academy before. Ernest B. Weeks, the headmaster, and his full corps of assistants, have a promising school for the coming year.

Fannie Flint of West Baldwin has recently visited Fryeburg where she was the guest of her grandfather, Daniel Flint. She is a graduate of the University of Maine and is now teaching in Paris. Her grandfather formerly resided in West Baldwin but now makes his home with his daughter, Mrs. George Chase, Bradley street.

Hazel Howe, who has been spending the Summer at Jackson, N. H., has now gone to Denmark, where she will teach in the public schools.

Everett Bailey very recently, when riding from the M. C. R. R. station at Fryeburg on the running board of the Lovell automobile, was carried past his boarding place; he stepped off while the car was slowly moving along, caught the heel of his boot and fell to the ground and injured one side of his face.

John Phillips, although ill obliged to use crutches, motored with his son at the wheel, from Alexandria, N. H., to Fryeburg to be at the fair. Mr. Phillips is accompanied by a nurse. They are stopping at the Argue Not.

Ralph S. Norton, special agent for the North British Insurance Co., was in town Friday night, also James Campbell, special agent for the Hartford Insurance Co., M. F. Bartlett, special agent for the Hamburg Bremen Co., of Waterville was also in town. Once a year these men call on W. R. Tarbox, who represents their companies in Fryeburg.

W. B. Fife and wife are entertaining Mr. Post's sisters and family, Mrs. Palmer from New York.

Our milliners, Mrs. Fife and Miss Irish have returned from Boston with most pleasing millinery for all ages and are rushed just at present with work.

Mrs. Elmer Harnden is entertaining her sister, Miss Hibbard, of West Bridgton.

The ministers in Fryeburg all delivered an able plea (as they did all over New England by request) Sunday, for the "better observance of the Sabbath," which certainly is a subject that should be appreciated by every one.

Hon. A. A. Perry has a most flourishing garden, both flowers and vegetables abundant in it.

Mr. and Mrs. B. T. Newman learned last week they had another granddaughter. Caroline, daughter of their son Paul, and wife, who reside in New Jersey. Their son George who has been in Texas, is soon expected home.

W. R. Tarbox and wife went to Bethlehem, N. H., Thursday and when just beyond the Twin Mountain House a car in front of them struck a rock, turned bottom side up, and the young man was buried beneath the car. Mr. Tarbox, with the assistance of another man, managed to raise the car so they could extricate the young man, whom they thought was dead, but after working over him for an hour he revived and was taken by the Tarboxes to Bethlehem and from there to the hospital in Littleton. It was a miracle that the young man was not crushed to death. Much credit and praise was given Mr. and Mrs. Tarbox for their extraordinary efforts in his behalf. His name was Louis Friedman of New York.

A man who works for Col. Walker in Brownfield with a party, lady and children, in an automobile went through a bridge in Madison, N. H., Sunday. The man had several ribs broken and it has not been learned at this writing the extent of injuries to the rest of the party.

At Last! The Real Thing in Motors

Ride in a Willys-Knight.

You don't know the real thing until you've had this experience.

Don't judge it by any other car.

There's nothing with which to compare it.

The quiet powerful smoothness of the Willys-Knight motor is a thing to marvel at—it simply revolutionizes any previous notion you may have had about how smooth and soft a motor could be.

You can't possibly realize what it means until you try it.

You simply wouldn't have anything else after you know what it means.

Glenwood

"It certainly does make cooking easy"

Sooner or Later you'll have one

Glenwoods are Brim Full of Good Things

The Glenwood Balanced Baking Damper is far ahead of any other—it is as positive as the turning of a railroad switch—open to start the fire, closed to bake—just this one damper for kindling or baking and best of all, it can't warp or stick.

The Glenwood Revolving Coal Grate is easy to shake at all times, and simply fine for removing clinkers. It is triangular in shape, with three different sides for wear.

The Ash Pan rests on a roller bearing frame—just open door and it rolls out at the slightest touch, neat and clean.

The Glenwood Shelf Under Oven Door is not stationary—it automatically raises and lowers as oven door is opened or closed. It is always level with oven bottom—a great convenience when basting meats or removing food.

The Glenwood Sectional Top is interchangeable—cross pieces can not warp—a wash boiler can be placed at the back as well as in front for quick heating, leaving the front holes free for cooking.

Glenwood Iron is smooth and perfect—the easiest of any to clean—a real delight to the most exacting housekeeper. Get one and you'll be glad ever after.

Hudson Super-Six Smashes Record Ocean to Ocean

The most coveted of all, the one that tests a car's endurance above all others,
is the transcontinental race against time
from San Francisco to New York.

That record is now held by the Hudson Super-Six Touring Car. It comes as the crowning achievement of the Hudson Super-Six, in speed, acceleration and endurance. There remain no other worlds to conquer to demonstrate the endurance speed and power of the Super-Six.

Last May a Cadillac "8" made the trip from Coast to Coast in 7 days, 11 hours, 53 minutes.

That record—then considered unbeatable—was lowered four weeks ago by a Marmion, which made the trip in 5 days,
18 1/2 hours.

The Hudson Super-Six made the trip
in 5 days, 3 hours, 59 minutes, beating the Marmion time by 14 hours and 53
minutes.

A 7-passenger phaeton model was used by the Hudson. Both Cadillac and Marmion used roadster models. Hudson did not seek to reduce its carrying capacity.
In fact, at all times 3, and sometimes 4, passengers were carried, as well as baggage, which brought the weight of the car, loaded, up to approximately 5,000 pounds.

Three drivers piloted the car in this great test of endurance. A. H. Patterson, the Hudson dealer at Stockton, California, started the trip, driving from San Francisco to Elko, Nevada, 578 miles. The schedule called for the completion of the trip into New York in 5 days and 10 hours. Patterson climbed over the Sierra Nevada Mountains, crossing the divide at an altitude of almost 9,000 feet, and cut his schedule 6 1/2
hours.

At Elko, Ralph Mulford took the wheel, and for 30 hours drove across the desert. He said the terrible monotony of that drive, the glare of the sun and the dust was more exhausting than his 24-hour drive, when he made the world's record in the Hudson Super-Six chassis, traveling 1819 miles.

Patterson again took the wheel at Laramie, Wyo., and drove the Super-Six over the Rocky Mountain Range and across Nebraska into Omaha. The car left Omaha with Mulford driving,
eight hours ahead of her time.

In Iowa, Mulford came over the brow of a hill at 60 miles an hour and saw dead ahead of him a bridge, on which a herd of cattle blocked the way. He had to decide quickly whether he should go over the embankment into inevitable death, or take his chances on running into the cattle. He chose the latter course and killed two cows. That despite this stop he made the river-to-river
record across Iowa and drove into South Bend, Indiana, where Chas. H. Vincent took the wheel. Vincent drove from 12:00 midnight, Friday, all the way into New York City—910 miles, arriving in New York on Monday morning at 6:32.
He had to pass through more towns than the other drivers and still maintain 34
miles an hour, which he did—Adv.

STRICTLY PERSONAL NOTES

Written at Meredith Center, N. H. and of Childhood's Early Days and Doings.
Published to Please and Amuse the Writer.

While I'm writing, the dog, filled with creature comfort lay snoring on the barn floor regardless of the chattering red squirrel in a nearby tree, who seemingly is making fun of both of us.

The Freewill Baptist Society "fixed over" the church in 1859. Father was a carpenter and had charge of the work.
He drew the plan of the steeple and bel-
lery "something to lift the meeting house up and made it look better" that was his language. I remember "the draft" or picture on paper and the criticisms passed on it by the people. It was finally approved when accepted by the good Elder Oliver Butler whose word was the law of the congregation and the steeple was erected under father's watchful care.
It did put style and finish to the church
edifice. The other churches in this vicinity had no steeples and the Center church stood out shined their rivals which was gratifying to the parishioners.

The time came to get the bell and father had nothing to do about purchasing it. I think Rev. Oliver Butler did that.
It was great day at the Center when the bell arrived and was to be hoisted into its place in the belfry. Capt. Joseph S.
Tilton couldn't wait until it was put in to position and while blocked up he sounded it with a sledge-hammer and its clarion voice rang out through the village
for the first time.

Father had charge of raising the bell.
I couldn't understand how it was to be done. Shire-poles, rope and blocks and a horse did it. It took some time to get it hung from the first floor. It was ready for Sunday service and more people attended worship that day than usual. The distance the sound of the bell could be heard was remarkable. It penetrated the sequestered Paradise Champney, Second Division, Oak and Beech Hills and surrounding country. It could even be heard at Meredith Village, 4 miles distant and its tone was fuller and sweeter than the Baptist church bell
there. I recall it all.

The bell soon became "cracked" and was taken down and returned to the manufacturers and another one came and was put in its place which lasted only a few months and the third one came which is in service at the present time.

John Sanborn raised all these bells and became an expert by practice. I was denied the privilege of attending the last bell-raising and stayed in my room all afternoon as a punishment for the misdemeanor of going to Lake Village without his permission. I remember it. Everybody was there but me. I watched the raising from my upstairs bed-room window, half a mile distant, nursing sorrow and affliction until finally I lay on the bed and went to sleep and forgot my troubles.

I've heard the owls hoot most every night since I've been here. They are up in John Moore's Cate's woods. I didn't use to hear them. Maybe I'm not sleeping as soundly as in former years.

My uncle Sullivan took me to London,
N. H., to see my grandfather, Newell Sanborn, and I gave him for so doing forty days' work.

I sat in a small chair in the front of the wagon between Uncle and Aunt.
The journey of twenty-five miles behind the white horse was tiresome as I was over anxious to see grandpa and grand-mama and I wanted the horse urged along as fast as possible.

The route led through the Canterbury Shakers and the road very hilly. My Uncle walked most of the hills and occasionally Aunt Lucy would join him and I was permitted to hold the reins or drive
the horse as I then thought.

The big long barn of the Shakers was a great sight. Uncle talked with one of them whom he knew and met by the roadside. He invited us to dinner and I was greatly alarmed for fear he would accept and then delay the journey and too
the long barn and big house and the quiet voiced Shaker filled me with awe.
He didn't accept but kept along over the hot sandy road until a good shade tree
was found and we stopped.

The blinders were removed and the horse securely hitched to a stake in the fence and fast of oats given him.
Aunt Lucy had a nice lunch for us in a basket and it was eaten under the refreshing shade. I expected we were to move along as soon as we got through with pies and cheese. Not so, the horse must be rested and Uncle Sullivan filled
his pipe and smoked in solid comfort, oh,
for so long.

Finally, we got away and soon came to a long and seemingly never ending hill. On the top of which was the home of Jerry Sanborn, the father of the present J. W. Sanborn. Gilmanton's great farmer and Farm Educator and Agricultural Publicist, who is favorably known in many states. It was a nice looking farm. Much better than the ones we left up in Meredith. No doubt the future great agricultural teacher and speaker was working on that farm that day.
He was unknown to the world then.

Finally, we got to a hill for some miles and the white horse wearily plodded along and I squirmed and ached in the small chair and continually asked, "Ain't we most there?"

The end came as we went down the Abram Osgood hill and Aunt Lucy talked with Simeon Lougee, (feebly minded)
whose pasture was said to have "gone up in a blaze of God's glory" when the bushes were burned. We turned by the schoolhouse which my father, as a carpenter,
had built and the next house on the left
was my grandfather's.

The house was old, small and low-posted,
and in it somewhere was a cobbler's shop. I wanted to find this at once, but grandfather would not take me to it. I rumped about and opened doors and plagued grandmother, who was busy getting supper, being helped by Lucy.

Finally the much wanted door was opened and I burst into the cobbler's shop. It was a wonderful sight. Grandfather allowed me to sit on the leather-covered low bench and even handle the tools. Nothing like it had I ever seen.

The lapstone, hammer, tacks, awls, waxed thread and shoe pegs occupied my attention until grandfather lead me in to supper and placed me in a high chair near him. I had forgotten I was tired but I was put to bed early.

had built and the next house on the left

of its parts linger about the premises to this day. I saw some only a few years ago.

On leaving, grandfather carried me in his arms and set me in the chair in the wagon and bid the folks good-by and asked me to come again next year.

He was the best man I ever met up to that time and I have never seen his equal since.

The return was made by the Hollow Route. It is less hilly but sandy. When nearing home Uncle reviewed the contract or agreement with me that I was to give him forty days' work for taking me to London and back.

I objected a little as I thought it too much and tried to get him to take off some but he wouldn't. Forty days none off was his reply. I finally refused to pay him that amount, notwithstanding I had agreed to do so on the start.

"You ain't," You break your agreement, do you?"

I answered in the affirmative.

He reined the horse to one side, cramping the wheel and sternly told me to get out and walk home. I did not know where I was or how far it was from home and I immediately squealed and promised faithfully I'd give the forty days' but he must board me during the time. This he agreed to do. I was, however, oppressed by the weight of debt and a good deal of the joy of the visit had been taken from me by the excessive amount of labor I'd got to give, but I had accepted
the terms and must live up to them.

With father's help I soon hit on a plan. I had been in the habit of bringing in stove-wood from the shed to the kitchen. Why couldn't I call the bringing of an armful of wood a day's work?
I thought I could and as father said it would be all right, I started in at it. An armful or more in a day constituted a day's work and in forty days I was square
with him.

I did this much to the surprise and apparent gratification of my aunt. I carried in some stove wood each day and put it in the wood-box. I didn't know when the forty days would be up but father kept on track of that and told me when
to stop.

I spoke to Uncle about it and told him I'd paid him the forty days' work as I'd brought in some wood every day for that length of time. He demurred a little and tried to make me believe I agreed to give him forty days' work in haying. I convinced him this was not so—it wasn't the way I understood it. At length he said it was all right and called me a gay deceiver and swindler.

This was in August 1860. I was five and a half years old.

There were no telephones or autos at that time. Eight or nine horses were consumed in traveling a distance that could now be covered in a little more than an hour.

Surely, we are now living in the hurry and get-there-quick age.
But no one can have more pleasing memories of their first visit to Grandpa
than I have had all these years.

A fox barked the other night. I enjoyed listening. If made me think of the dog "with a worth-while growl and a heavenly voice." I once knew. I wonder if there are any such dogs about here.
Bill Crockett is dead and the General Court, I'm told, has covered the foxhound all up and over with restrictive laws. They are trying to get Old New Hampshire back to raising sheep again.
Possibly Commissioner, Andrew L. Felk-er can do it as he now has anthrax stamped out, and Rose Pillsbury and Hi Noone failed to get nominated for governor.

I was unwell when young and received many punishments. This has followed me more or less in subsequent years. If you do wrong you get punished. You can't escape it. It is the way the ruling power asserts itself but in childhood the parental heads were the ruling power and I was taught to obey their will and law.
It was well, I now find no fault, neither will I essay to tell how children should be brought up. I recall being punished by standing in a chair a certain length of time; by being put to bed in the day time; restricted as to where I could go, etc. The usual way was by applying the lash good and strong. As this was often done and I presume it carried the necessary curative qualities along with it and made me behave better.

I look about for the six-foot leather strap used to hang on a nail in the barn but it is gone. I'd enjoy using it on some of the younger generation here.
I doubt if the present day laws of the state would allow me to lambaste and whip resident children without a permit
from some commission "made and provided for the purpose." No doubt they have a law covering this somewhere on the statutes.

They assemble five hundred and more
law-makers once in two years at Concord,
and have been known to extend railroad charters to the moon and regulate the flow of water into Lake Winnepesaukee
and the price of kerosene.

Since the Boston & Maine R. R. have been driven into distress and Jim French has got a young wife, the energy of the General Court has been largely directed to advertising abandoned farms, family affairs and in sending feeble minded children into Laconia.

This is the way it looks to me.

I once had a very young and small lamb. It was nursed from a bottle and soon died. I preached a funeral sermon over its remains and it was buried under an apple tree with due solemnity. My sister and the Ham children were present. Frank Ham, the present Brownfield postmaster, was one of them and his sisters, Ida and Belle. It was an awful sacreligious performance as viewed by the older people. Mother peeked round the corner of the house but said nothing.

Maybe in my next article I'll get bold and tell of the only 60 days' sentence I ever served.

Joe Bill's Case.

Ignacio Albanese, alias Joe Bill, was convicted of murder in the killing of his wife, Rosie Albanese, at the October term of the Supreme Judicial Court for Oxford County, in 1911, the offense occurring at Rumford, May 11, 1911.

In his petition for executive clemency Albanese states that he believes that he can convince the Governor and Council that the crime of which he was convicted was manslaughter and not murder and that under the circumstances sufficient punishment has been meted out to him for what he did.

Hon. Frank A. Morey of the law firm of McGillivuddy & Morey of Lewiston is the counsel for the petitioner.

FRYEBURG

PEPSIN, NUX, IRON AND SARSAPARILLA

A Magnificent Combination—Finest Course of Medicine.

Physicians and pharmacists have long known the desirability of combining iron—a superlative tonic—in a blood-purifying, building-up medicine.

The combination of the iron with Pepton's Sarsaparilla has now been secured through the happy thought of prescribing Pepton Pills to be taken in connection with the Sarsaparilla—one before eating, the other after.

In this way the two medicines work together, most harmoniously and especially supplementing each other, and giving a four-fold result in blood-cleansing and up-building.

You get blood-purifying, liver-stimulating, appetite-creating, liver-stimulating qualities in Pepton's Sarsaparilla and great tonic properties in Pepton Pills.

Buy these medicines today.

CANTON.

Canton schools opened Monday morning with the largest attendance for years. New seats have been added to the high and grammar rooms. The recitation room has been enlarged and a new laboratory made. Miss Partridge has proved to be an efficient instructor in the school room. The State Superintendent has placed the Canton High school in class A. Supt. Glover was present at the opening of the school and gave an encouraging talk to the high school pupils.

Mrs. Sarah B. N. Goding died at the home of her daughter, Mrs. A. Hodge, September 21. She was born in Hartford, the daughter of Thomas and Evelyn Sturtevant. She is survived by five children, one sister and several grandchildren. The funeral service was held at the Universalist church, Sunday, Rev. C. H. B. Seliger officiating.

Mrs. Bertha Sturtevant is confined to the house with a sprained ankle. Mrs. Addie Keene of East Sumner has been visiting her cousin, Agnes Heald.

Ruby Chamberlain, little daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ezra Chamberlain, fell from a wagon last Saturday and fractured her collar bone.

Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Oldham and Mr. and Mrs. A. P. York entertained a few friends Saturday evening in honor of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Russell, who are visiting them. Mr. and Mrs. Russell are fine violinists and with Eleanor Westgate as pianist, gave solos and duets, while Geo. When a Child Asks "Why?"

"When a child asks the meaning of a word, don't give a hasty or careless answer, but remember that a good use for story telling is to illustrate a word with it," advised a certain mother. "Weave a little story about the word, when you have time, and show the child how to use the word as well as merely learn its meaning."

Mrs. Marietta A. Curtis Fuller, wife of the late Caleb Fuller, died at her late home Tuesday morning at 4:30. Mrs. Fuller has been in frail health for a good many years. A few years ago she fell and fractured her hip and has been confined quite closely to an invalid's chair ever since. The last few days were full of suffering, but her mind was clear so that she could make the last arrangements as she wished.

She was the daughter of William and Marcella Swift Curtis and was born September 9, 1839 in Paris. She married Caleb Fuller in 1861, who died ten years ago. Two daughters were born to them, Lulu B., who died when about four years of age and Winnie E., wife of Geo. W. Ridlon, who survives, also one granddaughter, Bertha A., wife of Chester Buck and two great-grandchildren, Kenneth and Lucile Buck. She also leaves two brothers, Eugene Curtis of Norway and Alva Curtis of Dixfield.

Mrs. Fuller's home was also her daughter's home and a kind friend and loving mother and will be greatly missed especially by the daughter, who has tenderly cared for her during these last years.

She was a member of the Universalist church and a constant attendant as long as health permitted. The funeral was held at her late home, Thursday afternoon at 1:30, attended by Rev. D. A. Ball. The flowers were beautiful and abundant. Interment in West Paris cemetery.

Mr. and Mrs. G. L. Dunham and Mrs. Dunham's mother, Mrs. Hawley of Brattleboro, Vt., and Mr. and Mrs. Morse of Philadelphia, were guests Thursday, of Mr. Dunham's brother, H. W. Dunham and father, S. W. Dunham. They were making a trip with their touring car coming by way of Portland and returning by way of White Mountains.

Thursday evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Emery occurred one of the "Old Fashioned Husking Bees." About 7:30 P. M., the invited guests to about 70 congregated and at 8:00 they were husking in earnest. There were about 400 bushels of corn to be husked and it looked like an endless task but the 70 huskers had made quick work of it and at 10:00 o'clock had it all out. A fine New England dinner was served.

To the woman who admires smart style in a suit or coat

Copyright 1916 The H. Black Co.

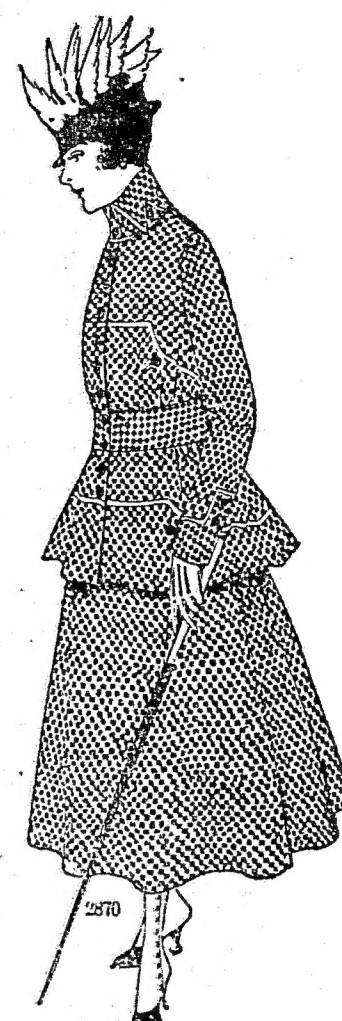

ESPECIALLY the woman who has hunted in vain for just the Fall Suit she wants, will find a pleasant surprise here in our Wooltex Suits.

She will find as wide a choice of good and stylish fabrics as ever—no signs of the scarcity that is talked of in some quarters.

She will find tailored and semi-tailored suits, many suggesting the smart Sports idea; utility suits; and many of semi-formal and dress design.

In materials, she has the choice of gabardines, serges, Bedford cords, whipcords, broadcloths and other favored fabrics.

And in coats, too, she finds an equal freedom of choice—both suits and coats from the celebrated Wooltex House, whose ideals of style, material and tailoring stand second to none in this country.
